

SHORT STORY REVIEW

CHARACTER DEFINITIONS:

1. _____ in a work of fiction
2. _____

PROTAGONIST

Who was the example given?

Usually the: _____

Give another example:

ANTAGONIST

Who was the example given?

Usually the: _____

Give another example:

WHAT ARE THE TWO TYPES OF CHARACTERIZATION?

3 TYPES OF CHARACTER:

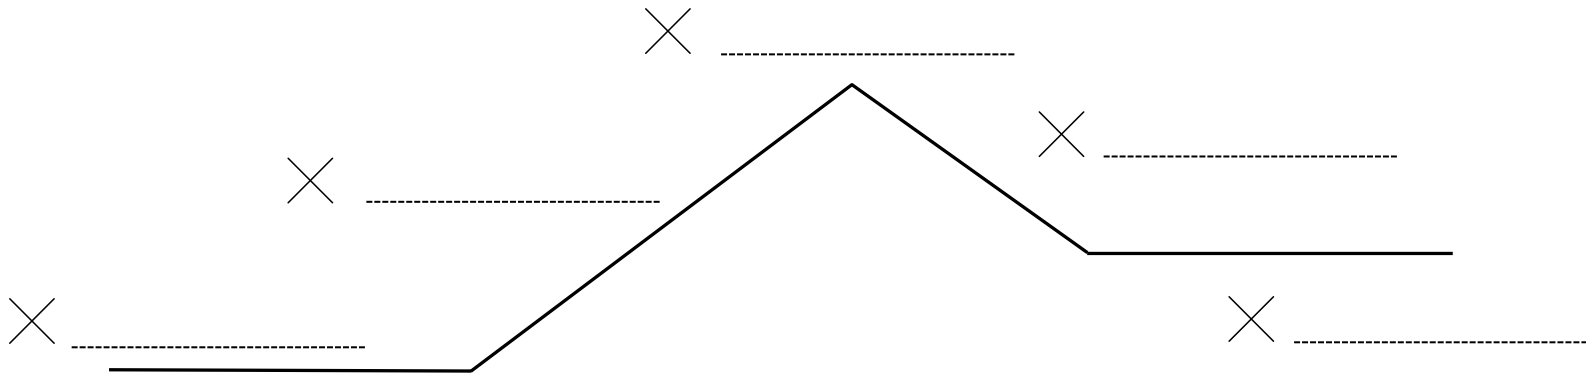

- _____ —→ one with a complex personality
- _____ —→ changes throughout the story
- _____ —→ stereotype, does NOT change

SETTING

_____ & _____ where the story takes place

The 5 main types of setting points that we covered are:

FILL IN THE PLOT DIAGRAM

Exposition is also known as: _____

Is there a requirement for how many steps in the Rising Action?

Yes

No

TYPES OF CONFLICT:

Person vs _____

Person vs _____

Person vs _____

Person vs _____

Reader wonders _____ during the climax

Falling action is when things start to _____

Conclusion is also known as: _____

The moral or author's message/purpose is the:

THEME SHOULD NOT BE _____

A BIT EXTRA ON CONFLICT:

Person vs _____

Person vs _____

Person vs _____

Person vs _____

Person vs _____

Person vs _____

CONFLICT CAN BE:
